Publications and Reports	xiv
Introduction	xxi

RADIO PHYSICS

I.	Physical Electronics	1
	Temperature Dependence of Electrical Leakage Caused by Cesium on Glass	1
II.	Soft X-Ray Spectroscopy	7
III.	X-Ray Diffraction Studies	9
IV.	Physical Chemistry	11
V.	Biophysical Chemistry	13
VI.	Microwave Spectroscopy	15
VIA.	Optical and Infrared Masers	17
VII.	Nuclear Magnetic Resonance and Hyperfine Structure	19
	Hyperfine Structure and Isotope Shifts in Neutron-Deficient Mercury Isotopes	21
VIII.	Microwave Electronics	23
IX.	Molecular Beams	25
	Stark Effect and Hyperfine Structure of Hydrogen Fluoride	25
	CS Maser	27
	Ammonia Deceleration Experiment	28
	He ₃ and He ₄ Beams	29
	Measurement of the Velocity of Light	29
X.	Radio Astronomy	35
	K-band Radiometry	35
	Solid-State Local Oscillators	37
	A Relationship between Current Density \bar{J} and Far-Zone Radiation Fields	38
XI.	Physical Acoustics	41
	Instability of Liquid Conductors in a Magnetic Field	41
	Sound Propagation over a Plane Boundary	42
	Stability of Parallel Flows	45

CONTENTS

XII.	Noise in Electron Devices	53
	Solutions to the Problem of the Optimum Noise Performance of Multiterminal Amplifiers	53

PLASMA DYNAMICS

XIII.	Plasma Physics	61
	Low-Frequency Plasma Waves	61
	Decameter Radiation from Jupiter	66
XIV.	Plasma Electronics	67
	Nonlinear One-Dimensional Magnetohydrodynamic Monotron	69
	An Alternative Proof of Stability for the Magnetohydro- dynamic Waveguide	73
	Scattering of Light from Electrons II	74
	Use of Fissile Nuclides in Fusion Reactor Blankets	77
	Design and Construction of a Large Plasma Facility	83
	Energy Extraction Blanket for a Fusion Reactor	85
	Superconducting Solenoid	86
XV.	Plasma Magnetohydrodynamics and Energy Conversion	101
	Work Completed	106
	The Effect of Swirl on the Electromagnetic Flowmeter	106
	Experimental Characteristics of a Plasma Jet	106
	Blood-Flow Studies	106
	Experimental Measurement of the Thermal Conductivity of Cesium Vapor	107
	Work Function of a Conductor	108
	Power Flow in the Magnetohydrodynamic Induction Machine	113

COMMUNICATION SCIENCES AND ENGINEERING

XVI.	Statistical Communication Theory	121
	The Synthesis of a Class of Nonlinear Systems	122
	Maxima of the Mean-Square Error in Optimum Nonlinear No-Memory Filters	130
XVII.	Process Analysis and Synthesis	137
XVIII.	Processing and Transmission of Information	139
	Picture Processing	140
	A Study of the Picture-Sampling Process	140
	The Mathematical Foundation of the Synthetic Highs System	140
	Frequency-Compressive Feedback Systems	147

CONTENTS

XIX.	Artificial Intelligence	159
XX.	Speech Communication	163
	A Computer Program for Controlling the Dynamic Vocal- Tract Analog (DAVO)	163
	A Transistorized Articulatory Speech Synthesizer	164
	Computer Control of a Terminal Analog Speech Synthesizer	167
XXI.	Mechanical Translation	171
	Generative Grammar without Transformation Rules	171
	An Ordinary Language Input for a COMIT Proof-Procedure Program	174
	Sentence-Meaning and Word-Meaning	176
	Finnish Noun Morphology	180
XXII.	Linguistics	187
	A Note on the Formulation of Phonological Rules	187
	Vowel Harmony in Classical (Literary) Mongolian	189
	On the Present Tense Theme o/e in Russian	190
	Discontinuous One-Way Grammars	193
	Children's Grammar	195
	Theoretical Implications of Bloomfield's "Menomini Morphophonemics"	197
XXIII.	Communications Biophysics	205
	Binaural Interaction in Single Units of the Accessory Superior Olivary Nucleus in Cat	207
	Postauricular Electric Response to Acoustic Stimuli in Humans	218
	Responses of a Neuronlike Net to Paired Stimuli	225
XXIV.	Neurophysiology	227
XXV.	Neurology	229
	Work Completed	229
	Eye Convergence	232
	Pupillary Noise	234
	Eye-Movement Experimentation	236
	Model of the Pupil Reflex to Light	237
	Human Prediction of Filtered Random Sequences	240
XXVI.	Cutaneous Sensory Mechanisms	243
XXVII.	Sensory Aids Research	245

CONTENTS

XXVIII.	Circuit Theory and Design	247
XXIX.	Network Synthesis	249
XXX.	Computer Research	251
XXXI.	Advanced Computation Research	253
XXXII.	Stroboscopic Research	255
	Author Index	257
